The initial incident which gave rise to this action occurred on December 20, 1961, at which time the plaintiff Charles A. Nave was arrested and charged with the violation of a traffic ordinance of the City of Seattle. He was also charged with resisting arrest in violation of another city ordinance. A somewhat detailed recital of the facts resulting in Mr. Naves arrest are set out in the opinion of this court in Seattle v. Nave, 62 Wash. 2d 446, 383 P.2d 491 (1963). Mr. Nave was convicted in the City of Seattle Municipal Court on both charges. He appealed to the Superior Court for King County and, on a trial de novo before the court sitting without a jury, was convicted again on both charges. On appeal to this court, however, the judgment and sentence on both charges was reversed and the
